

Osteoporosis Screening

- Osteoporosis is the most common bone disease. People with osteoporosis have weak bones that are more susceptible to breaking. A bone mineral density (BMD) test can be ordered by your primary physician. It takes picture of your bones and can help determine if you have osteoporosis.
- UHS provides this service, Bone Density Department Hours: Wednesday & Thursday 8am to 3pm at the Polk St. Clinic only

